ISMI and ICBI—Dual partnership

The ISMI has maintained a dual membership with the ICBI—International Circle for Biological Implantology—since 2025. This allows members to benefit from a strong international network, high-quality continuing education opportunities, and access to leading scientific expertise in the field of biological implantology.

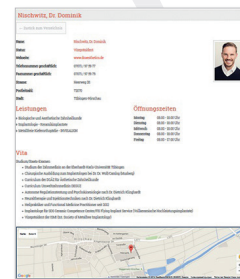

The ICBI is a scientifically oriented, globally active organisation dedicated to the further development, promotion, and international dissemination of biological implantology. With a clear focus on biocompatible ceramic implants, the ICBI combines scientific depth with clinical relevance—pursuing a holistic, patient-centered approach.

The ICBI sees itself not only as an academic platform, but as a network that rethinks dentistry—interdisciplinary, innovative, and international.
